

34 Woods Crescent, Cromwell

Mountain Views. Modern Mood.

The living spaces are anchored by warm timber floors and a wood burner that keeps winter evenings cosy. Every transition between indoors and out feels fluid, with sliders opening to a sun-drenched courtyard framed by timber retaining walls and sculptural planting. It's a courtyard that works hard without demanding much, and is perfect for long lunches, evening wine or mornings with coffee in hand.

Upstairs, three bedrooms continue the home's theme of restraint-meets-layered texture, with mountain views through generous windows. Bathrooms are contemporary and understated, with floating vanities, frameless showers, and stone-inspired tiling that elevates daily rituals.

With a 254 m² freehold section, four off-street parks including the internal garage, plus more parking space down the side of the property and a location that's moments from Lake Dunstan
