Install Notes

A strong WIFI connection or LAN cable is required by the inverter for monitoring/updates, extra cost is incurred if a WIFI booster or similar is required. The Eddi hub requires a LAN port at the router and a power point. Harrisons will arrange the Import Export meter swap with your Power Retailer on your behalf. Solar systems without a battery will not operate during a power outage. Installation dates may change depending on delays with international freight that are beyond our control. Please note monitoring is production only unless the Fronius 63A meter or the Tesla Battery is installed. External 25mm white conduit could be visible if an internal cable run is not possible. Independent Electrical Inspections can take approximately 2 weeks from your install date. Meter swap fees charged by Electricity Companies are excluded unless specified. Measurements for panels are estimated and will be confirmed or adjusted by the installer on the installation day. Exclusive Solar buy back of 16c + GST offer available with this deal *conditions apply. The customer must provide adequate wifi connectivity or LAN cable to the Inverter for monitoring. Extra unspecified work on, or inspections of, the existing electrical system are excluded from the price. Any unforeseen work in order to complete the Solar/battery system is not included in the price and will be charged to the customer on top of the initial purchase price.

Proposed position of inverter: Beside the switchboard

We estimate this system to generate on average 35kW of power per day over a 12 month period.

Subject to You complying with Your obligations under these Terms and Conditions and clause 33 of these Terms and Conditions, Harrisons will honour the agreed quote that they have stipulated for. If there are potentially additional charges for example extra roof preparation due to unknown damage from an earth quake, this will be noted on the Proposal or Invoice. Without limiting the other rights of Harrisons under these Terms and Conditions in the event that You change the scope of the job for example where You do not carry out any agreed preparation work (or do not carry out Your responsibilities under these Terms and Conditions) which the installers then need to do or fail to disclose something that has not been recorded as part of the scope of the job, Harrisons may charge for extra Product or Services required so as to reimburse them for any extra costs arising as a consequence. - The time of delivery of Products will be calculated from when they are delivered to You at the address provided for delivery or if You have contracted a carrier then from when they are delivered to the carrier
- If You have raised a dispute Harrisons will then investigate the claim and if it then accepts that a Product or Service is faulty or defective Harrisons will comply with its obligations under the Consumer Guarantees Act, in considering whether to take any action in this respect Harrisons are entitled to take into account any actions You have taken or failed to take that may influence these things.
